

Say 'I Do' With a Big 'Do

Contest to Award Human Hair Extensions to a Bride Who Has Lost Her Hair to Breast Cancer Treatment

$10,000+ Prize Package Will Take Care of a Breast Cancer Survivor from Head to Toe on Her Wedding Day

Brides who have lost their hair to breast cancer treatment have the opportunity to win a wedding day prize package worth over $10,000. The grand prize includes human hair extensions and a customized lingerie set so she can walk down the aisle with hair under her veil and cleavage in her gown. Brides can enter the contest from November 1, 2008 to January 2, 2009 by visiting www.thespiraledstem.com. As a bonus, the first ten qualified entrants will automatically win a Foot Petals Runaway Bride Gift Set.

The grand prize winner will receive: human hair extensions and wedding day hairstyling by Celebrity Hairstylist Abby Aquilera, valued at $5,000; florals for the wedding from the e collection - featuring VeriFlora Certified Sustainably Grown Flowers - by The Spiraled Stem Floral Design, valued at $2,000; a day-of wedding coordination package from Simply Mumtaz Events, valued at $3,500; a personalized bra fitting and wedding day lingerie set by The Sculpted Silhouette, including the Bra Pocket, valued at $100; Foot Petals Runaway Bride Gift Set, valued at $44.95.

To be eligible to enter, entrants must be engaged prior to the application closing date on January 2, 2009, plan to marry in Southern California by December 31, 2010, have lost their hair due to breast cancer treatment, and anticipate at least 2 ½ inches of post-treatment hair re-growth by the wedding. Visit www.thespiraledstem.com for complete eligibility criteria and to enter.

Contest Sponsored by:

